LEARNING

A critical and serious part of learning is the assessment of what learners have learned. Organizations often need a sophisticated, fully functional assessment solution. NetDimensions Exams is designed to cope with all levels and types of assessments — competency and skills tests, regulatory assessments, certifications, professional qualifications, knowledge assessments, quality assessments, as well as quizzes, surveys, questionnaires and recruitment related applications, and much more.

NetDimensions Exams is designed to maximize the productivity of people involved in developing and managing assessments, as well as regulatory compliance requirements. It enables your organization to manage the entire assessment process with optimal control and security.

Organizations use NetDimensions Exams to ensure consistent quality and security of assessments and assessment programs — from authoring questions, administration, scheduling and delivering, to reporting and analysis.

It also enables you to accurately measure employee competency and ensure they possess the appropriate skills at the required proficiency levels and certify that all relevant and necessary compliance requirements are met.

NetDimensions Exams is available as a standalone enterprise assessment solution or part of NetDimensions Learning and NetDimensions eLearning.

Key Features of NetDimensions Exams:

Robust and sophisticated

NetDimensions Exams is optimized for authoring, scheduling, delivering, tracking and reporting:

- Competencies and skills assessments
- Regulatory and compliance assessments
- Licensing and certification assessments
- Quality assessments
- Knowledge assessments
- Performance assessments

Designed for regulatory compliance

NetDimensions Exams was originally developed to meet the demanding requirements of highly regulated industries. It enables assessments to be treated and delivered as objects, thus extending the capability of ordinary assessments authoring to include flexibility and power in the management of assessments.

Best-in-class security

NetDimensions Exams' role-based security enables you to restrict access to assessments, assessment pools, questions, question pools and related functions such as authorization workflow control, creating individual and multiple level access codes and levels, IP addresses/range restrictions, time and date access and more. These sophisticated security and comprehensive tracking and audit trail features ensure certification, training, assessment and regulatory programs are successfully developed, implemented and conducted. With authorization workflow control, implementing assessments for regulatory compliance requirements is simple and intuitive in the system.

Other Features

Additional features include creating assessments with templates, scheduling and reviewing functionalities, associating additional training materials to assessments (e.g. PDFs and PowerPoint presentations), automatic notifications for users/groups, integrating training history, importing/ exporting records, generating custom reports, tracking.

Conduct assessments securely

- Sophisticated security — network location security and access code security with optional access levels to view assessments during the management process – user authentication, fixed IP address for delivery, supervisor passwords for 2nd level proctored exam security and more
- Restrict and control test access by individual or multi-level passwords, IP addresses/range, number of attempts, availability start/end date and time, as well as minimum interval between attempts
- Enhanced authorization features in the question authoring and workflow approval processes

Manage assessment programs effectively and efficiently

- Create multiple assessments with templates based on question pools
- Automatic creation of re-sit exams
- Comprehensive reporting capabilities
- Send reminders for regularly scheduled assessments (e.g. for re-certification or compliance purposes)
- Enable examinees to take assessments without pre-enrollment
