

Senior Learning Consultant

Role Overview:

Reporting directly to the Operations Director, you will be responsible for working closely with client Subject Matter Experts and the in-house digital learning development team in the design and production of online and work-based learning materials across multiple subject areas and sectors across Ireland and the UK.

You will plan and facilitate meetings with client teams to help them articulate their learning needs and shape how we will deliver the teaching and performance improvement that is needed. You will then work with the other members of the learning design team to create detailed storyboards and work alongside the learning technologists and AV team to ensure we develop content that really delights the client.

Candidate profile:

As the successful candidate you will have a dynamic approach with exceptional communications and negotiation skills and excellent client liaison skills, with a background in e-learning and blended learning as an instructional designer.

You will have detailed knowledge of training theories, methodologies and techniques and able to demonstrate innovative and creative solutions to meet client needs.

As part of the role you will also work with team members to develop new creative instructional processes and design strategies.

Essential Requirements:

- Third level qualification in teaching, instructional design, or a related field.
- Minimum five years' experience post qualification as an instructional designer/learning consultant designing digital learning materials.

- Excellent presentation skills.
- Excellent written and verbal English language skills.
- Experience of facilitating client workshops to create a curriculum or content design and overall teaching model using multiple media.

Desirable Requirements:

- AV Production experience.
- Experience working with Learning Management Systems.
- Experience in the delivery of Educational/Instructional Design Training courses.
- Experience in the design and delivery of classroom-based training courses.
- Project Management qualification.

Why Aurion?

Aurion Learning is a multiple award winning company that delivers innovative digital learning solutions for large corporate and public sector clients in local and international markets. Continued company growth means that we are now looking for an experienced Learning Consultant to join the team.

By joining our highly skilled learning design team, you will get the opportunity to think creatively and work on a wide range of interesting and challenging projects in the e-learning and digital media field. If you are interested in pushing people's perception of what learning is and where it can happen, want to work in a friendly working environment that respects work-life balance and offers lots of opportunity for CPD, then we would love to hear from you.

Salary: Negotiable, depending upon experience.

To apply for this role, please send a cover letter outlining relevant skills and experience, and a detailed curriculum vitae to info@aurionlearning.com