

Fiona Quigley is Aurion Learning's Director of Learning & Innovation responsible for overseeing the delivery of eLearning development projects along with a core responsibility for business development. Fiona has over 10 years experience in the training and eLearning industries and to date has designed and developed more than 1000 hours of visually stimulating, interactive learning for a variety of Irish, UK and international clients. Fiona's academic track record includes a Bsc(Hons) in Computing & Information Systems, a Post Graduate Certificate in Management Practice and a Post Graduate Diploma in Learning Technologies.

Additionally, as a certified NLP (Neuro Linguistic Programming) Practitioner, Fiona specialises in whole-brain learning and meta modeling. She is adept at utilising interactive techniques to promote deep learning through story telling, video-based drama, audio and animation.