

Ross Maguire is Aurion Learning's Sales and Marketing Manager and is responsible for growing the business across targeted Learning and Development sectors in the UK, Ireland and Europe. Ross joined the company in 2004 from US-owned eLearning Company NETg. He previously worked as an eLearning roll-out consultant and client account manager to support the implementation of national learning and development initiatives for large public and private sector organisations.